Daily Summer Visitor to North Saanich

Depicted above is the M.S. Nisqually. A familiar sight to residents of this area, the vessel is engaged on the Sidney-Anacortes ferry service. In company with her sister-ship the M.S. Klickitat, the Nisqually is a daily visitor at Sidney throughout the summer ferry schedule of the Blackball Line, linking North Saanich with the American Gulf Islands and the mainland.

BEST "SIDNEY DAY" YET IS THEME OF NEXT WEDNESDAY'S HOLIDAY PROGRAM AT PARK

—To Distribute Over $500 In Prizes

More than $500 in prizes will be presented to successful competitors in the various events on Sidney Day, next Wednesday, July 19.

Aiming at the biggest Sidney Day yet, the North Saanich War Memorial Park Board, whose main function is the annual gala day in Sidney, has been working at high pressure to beat all previous records. The program for the day is already an impressive one. The races and competitions will be interspersed with special novelty contests and events to ensure a varied and entertaining program. Prizes will be presented by J. J. White, esteemed pioneer citizen.

The day's festivities will commence at 1 p.m., when the parade will leave the assembly point at the corner of Queens Avenue and Fifth St. Led by the Sidney Junior Band, the assembly of floats, decorated cars, bicycles and other features, will proceed along Third Street to Beacon Avenue. The crowning of the Carnival Queen at the park on Beacon Avenue will mark the opening of the afternoon's entertainments.

A second program will commence at 6 p.m. Spectators will see a keenly-contested ball game, when Sidney Legionnaires will compete with their rivals in the league, Noble's Warriors. The noted team of motorcycle stunt-riders from the Victoria Motorcycle Club will follow with an hour's program of riding.

Final feature of the day will be the dance at East Camp Recreation Hall, Patricia Bay Airport. Commencing at 9 p.m., the dance will be the Queen's final court.

There is no information yet available regarding the standing of the various contestants in the queen contest. Results will be available on Saturday evening. The contest closes at 7 p.m. on that evening and tickets will be taken by Miss Agnes Pearson at the B.C. Electric Office on Beacon Avenue.

Sidney Day will be observed as a half holiday in Sidney. A number of merchants will close for business all day in order to make preparations for floats and other features for the afternoon.

Presentation To Legion President

Members of the Saanich Peninsula Branch of the Canadian Legion met Monday night, when they presented President J. A. Taylor with a pewter tankard to mark the occasion of his recent wedding.

One new member was admitted, Cpl. MacCallum, R.C.A.F.

General business at this meeting was light. Arrangements were made for the holding of the annual Decoration Day service which, as usual, will be held at Holy Trinity church, Patricia Bay, on Sunday, August 6, at 2.30 p.m.

Discussion centred on Sidney Day and it was decided to accept the offer of the Rotary Club to organize a concession.

A report was received from the committee in charge of demolition of the army hut, everything is running well, and the committee anticipated that the final result would be satisfactory.

SIDNEY FIRE CREW ANSWERS THREE CALLS

On Thursday, July 6, the Sidney Volunteer Fire Department was called to a half-acre brush fire at Land's End Road. The flames were subdued with little damage. A chimney fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mason, Queens Avenue, on Wednesday morning, July 12, caused a double call on the fire department. The fire crew extinguished the flames and cooled off the chimney. They were recalled when smoke was seen issuing from the interior of the house. A fault in the brickwork had permitted the flames to ignite woodwork around the chimney. The second fire was extinguished after the woodwork had been ripped out.

We're happy to publish three more challenging letters this week:

APPEALS FOR PROGRESS

Editor, Review,

Sir: Let me congratulate you on your effort to obtain better ferry service between Vancouver, the Gulf Islands and Sidney. I came to live on these islands 20 years ago this month and ever since then have been pulling for a daily service each way between Stevenson and Sidney, calling at the Gulf Islands. At first I started pulling my own little rope. Later I added my weight to the larger one of the Galiano Island Development Association. Recently, they in turn, added theirs to the very much larger one of the Gulf Islands Improvement Bureau. Now the time has come for us to let onto yours, the strongest of all, and all pull together.

I say above, "Stevenson and Sidney," calling at the Gulf Islands. By using these termini, the new service would still carry some of the cars formerly carried by the "Motor Princess" and the journey would be short enough to allow a daily round trip, which is essential. Of course this would entail a better bus and train service at both ends but the equipment is there and only needs to be synchronized.

To get the full support of the Gulf Islands, however, the service should be given to the cars for the islands. I am not quite sure of my figures but believe that at

Big Day Looms At Galiano On July 22

Premier Johnson Will Be Entertained By Islanders

They're going to have a big day over on Galiano Island on Saturday, July 22. The islanders on that date will entertain Hon. Byron I. Johnson, Premier of British Columbia, with Mrs. Johnson and their party. There's no ferry service from Vancouver Island to Galiano so the Premier will have to travel as best he may.

A reception committee has been named to greet the distinguished party and see that they are well entertained. The committee is headed by I. G. Denroche and is composed of Mrs. B. P. Russell, F. E. Robson and Paul Scoones.

Lunch will be enjoyed by the visitors at "The Haven" at 12.30 p.m. Afterwards they will be taken for a tour of the island during which they will inspect the Galiano Light and Power Co. plant, the park and the golf course.

A Reception At 3 p.m. there will be a general reception at Galiano Lodge, to which all residents of the Gulf Islands, their friends and visitors are invited. Tea and other refreshments, including ice cream, will be served and it is expected that the Premier will speak.

Because accommodation at the noon luncheon is limited, attendance will be limited to the following invited guests: members of the reception committee, one member of the Gulf Islands Improvement Bureau from Mayne, North and South Pender and Saturna Islands, Rev. Peter Horsfield, rector; Dr. T. E. Roberts, medical health officer; T. Carolan, Canadian Legion; Mrs. E. Callaghan, P.T.A.; E. J. Bambrick, president of the Gulf Islands Improvement Bureau; Lloyd Booth, representing the Golf Club; F. E. Robson, Galiano Light and Power Co.; D. A. New, community hall; Mrs. J. P. Hume, school board; and J. S. Rivers, publisher of The Review. The following organizations will also be represented: Mayne Island Community Club; Saturna Island Community Club; Pender Island Farmers' Institute; and South Pender Development Bureau.

In the evening, visitors will enjoy a dance sponsored by the Community Hall, but unfortunately, the Premier and his party will be leaving at about 5 p.m.

THE REVIEW IS FOUND WANTING

The Review has many old friends throughout the district and one of them is Fred Riley, of Saanichton. He has taken the pains to check on a recent statement carried by this newspaper, The Review has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. This newspaper recently carried a story concerning George Graves of Brentwood. The story pointed out that he had served in the First Great War and had been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal. Further, The Review stated, this decoration was won by "only half a dozen Canadians" in the First Great War.

Now Captain Fred Riley knows something about matters military for he served his apprenticeship in the Canadian army during the Boer War and the First Great War. Moreover he's ready for action in the South Korean War if his services are needed.

He took the trouble to check up on The Review's statement and has sent along the following note: "On reference to Canada records I find that 1,853 M.S.M.'s were issued to Canadians and not a mere half dozen, as mentioned, is our true real."

ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY SATURDAY

Annual garden party of Ruth Chapter, O.E.S., is slated for the Dominion Experimental Farm, at Saanichton on Saturday, July 15, at 2.30 p.m. The summer event has been enjoyed for many years. Members of the organization reside all over the Saanich Peninsula.

New Postal Ruling AIDS N. SAANICH BUSINESSMEN

W. E. Poupore, of Sidney, has informed The Review of an improvement in the mail service in this area which will become effective at once.

Some time ago the matter of postal service in this district was discussed by the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce and a committee, headed by W. C. James, was appointed to study the situation and report back to the Chamber. The report was adopted and the Chamber wrote to the proper postal authorities.

The Announcement Mr. Poupore has received the following letter, written by G. Herring, of Ottawa, director of communications:

"A complaint has been received from the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce concerning the times at which outgoing mails are despatched from Sidney, Royal Oak and Saanichton post offices on the Sidney and Victoria service.

"At the present time, mails are despatched from these offices on the stage leaving Sidney at 3.15 p.m. and 7.15 p.m., daily except Sunday.

"A request has been made for the establishment of a despatch of mails to arrive in Victoria in time to receive afternoon letter carrier delivery and connect with the steamer for Vancouver, leaving at 2.10 p.m. and also flight 108, leaving Patricia Bay airport at 3.15 p.m.

"It has been ascertained that if mails were despatched on the stage leaving Sidney at 12.01 p.m. the objection would be overcome, and the department has therefore authorized that a despatch be made at 12.01 p.m., instead of 3.15 p.m.

"As the 12.01 p.m. bus cannot make connections at Sidney Post Office, it is necessary to establish a service between the post office and the bus depot. This service, frequency six times per week, distance 200 feet, will be performed by Mr. H. Carter, under temporary arrangement."

Approval Voiced General approval of the new arrangement has been voiced by business houses of this area.

Harold E. Kennedy, Sidney postmaster, reports that the mail despatch at 3.15 has been cancelled with effect from July 10. The first despatch of the day will in future, be at 12.01 p.m. and the mail will close at 11.30 a.m.

The modified schedule of mail collections and despatches from Sidney Post Office will be as follows: despatches (closing times) 11.30 a.m., to Victoria and district; 5.30 p.m., to Patricia Bay Airport; 6.30 p.m., to Victoria and district. Arrivals will continue to be sorted at approximately 9.45 a.m. and 4.45 p.m.

The alteration to the schedule of collections from Sidney Post Office will make a corresponding change in the Saanichton Post Office routine. The despatch from that post office, which was formerly made at 3.30 p.m., will now be at 12.20 p.m. For Victoria and district there will be two despatches daily, 12.20 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. Incoming mail will continue to arrive at 8.30 a.m. and 4 p.m. and will be sorted about 9 a.m. and 4.30 p.m., respectively.

E. J. Bambrick Again Heads Islands Bureau

Saturna Farmer Is New Vice-President Of Group

E. J. Bambrick, well known Galiano Island general merchant, was re-elected president of the Gulf Islands Improvement Bureau at the annual meeting of the organization at Port Washington on July 5.

James Campbell, Saturna Island farmer, was elected vice-president of the bureau and J. M. Larnie, Saturna realtor, will continue as secretary-treasurer.

Well Attended Parley The annual conference was well attended by members from the five islands which the bureau embraces: Galiano, Mayne, North and South Pender and Saturna.

Appreciation of the assistance of the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review in furthering the work of the bureau was voiced at the meeting.

BARBECUE IS ENJOYED

Saturna Island barbecue, sponsored by the Saturna Island Women's Service Club, was held at Croker Point on July 2, and was a marked success.

Jim Cruikshank acted as chef and barbecued the lambs in true Argentinian style, and the result was a delicious meal for 150 people. Salads, home baked buns, relishes and cakes were donated by every member of the community.

A sports program for the children was organized by Jim Money.

Ed. Gilbert expressed the sentiments of the entire community and their many guests when he thanked Mr. and Mrs. Cruikshank and Money Bros. for their generous donation of the lambs; and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Campbell for the hospitality of their beautiful acres.

A softball game and square dances occupied the more active of the adults during the afternoon hours. Those not so active lay in the shade discussing and digesting their excellent dinner.

Prizes Presented Awards were given the school children for the best posters advertising the Saturna Fall Fair. Prizes went to Wesley A. Jones, Rosemary Drapier and Yvonne Villars. A prize of $2, donated by Money Bros. for best attendance was divided between Rosemary and Albert Drapier, whose attendance records were perfect.

Members of the community are hoping to make this an annual affair.

SIDNEY TRUCKER IN ROAD ACCIDENT

Condition of nine-year-old Shirley Gordon, of Victoria, is still critical. She is a patient in Royal Jubilee hospital, suffering from head injuries. The youngster was injured in a highway accident when she was in collision with a truck driven by Wesley A. Jones, of McTavish Road, Sidney. Mr. Jones was proceeding along Shelbourne St., in Victoria, at the time of the accident.

OCTOPUS IN CRAB TRAP

William Reader, of Colwood, who is a crab fisherman, found something larger than a crab in his trap last week. It was a second octopus that he has caught. The seven-foot sea monster had crawled into a trap and eaten both the bait and the crabs. Mr. Reader is the author of Bill Reader of East Saanich Road, Sidney.

LATE MRS. GEORGE BUTLER

FIRST TEACHER IN NORTH SAANICH

Schools are much to the fore these days as new educational institutions have been approved by Saanich ratepayers.

The first school to be operated in the North Saanich area was on Mount Newton Cross Road. William Thomson, of Bannockburn, had erected a school house on his property and in 1878 Capt. and Mrs. George Stephen Butler settled in the living quarters attached thereto. Thus Mrs. Butler was not only the first lady-teacher in this area but she was the first teacher to hold class in North Saanich.

For a short time the school on Mount Newton Cross Road was operated successfully. It was closed when a new school was opened on the Turgoose farm on the East Saanich Road. Residents of West Saanich were then without a school for their children and they called a meeting to discuss the provision of a new one.

George Thomas donated a piece of land and the community erected a school and living quarters. Mrs. Butler was once more installed as teacher. The following year, Capt. Butler took up 160 acres of land on the Keating Cross Road and they settled permanently there. Many pioneers today consider that the road should rightly be named Butler's Cross Road.

Capt. Butler was a native of Hampshire, England, where he first saw light of day in the year 1834. He was the son of the Rev. Stephen Butler. After leaving Oxford University he entered the army as a lieutenant. In 1854 he was with the 17th Regiment of Infantry and went with that regiment to the Crimea. During the Siege of Sebastopol he was wounded and was sent home with the rank of captain.

Gold Strike While stationed with his unit at Quebec, he had heard of the gold strike on the Fraser River. The prospect appealed to him and he resigned his commission. In April, 1862, he arrived in Victoria after having sailed to Panama in the Shannon and crossing the (Continued on Page Seven)

SURVEY OF NEW SCHOOL SITES PROCEEDING THROUGHOUT DISTRICT

Surveying of new school sites throughout Saanich School District No. 63 is now being completed by engineers of Aldous and White, of Victoria. This is the first step towards implementing the school building program approved at the polls by school district ratepayers on June 24.

Meanwhile in the Vancouver offices of Stuart Thompson, Esq., and Pratt, the school board's architects, plans and specifications for the new schools and for extensions to existing structures are being prepared.

Tenders will be called for the major construction projects later in the year.

Vancouver Province Supports The Review in Ferry Campaign

Under the heading of "Serving Sidney and the Islands", the Vancouver Province, leading western Canadian daily, presented a strong leading editorial in its July 5 issue, regarding The Review's campaign for improved ferry service. The Province's editorial is reprinted below:

WILLIAM MANSON, who is taking over as vice-president Pacific region, CPR, would do well to read the reasonable presentation of a transportation problem set forth in June 28 issue of Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review.

The Review, in what it promises is the first gun of a campaign for better boat service to its home town and the rapidly growing population of the Gulf Islands, draws attention to the fact that with the withdrawal of the Motor Princess from its usual summer Stevenson-Sidney run, the islands are left with only the Princess Mary. The Review wonders what will happen when the venerable Mary goes the way of all good ships.

This newspaper agrees with the Review. It is time for transportation officials to canvass the whole situation and to let the public know its plans. Does the company contemplate resuming the old Stevenson-Sidney car ferry service? What is the future for the Gulf Islands service?

Islands folk have wondered whether the company might use the Princess Elaine on their run next year when the new, larger Nanaimo car ferry is commissioned. The solution of the problem of serving a growing, scattered population by water is complicated by great seasonal variations in business. The area is used increasingly by mainland folk and people from the prairies as a holiday ground.

The Review has been reasonable in its argument. The company should consider the case.

MORE RELIEF FOR FLOOD AND FIRE VICTIMS

The U.K. government has arranged to send 500 tons of emergency food to aid in rebuilding the food and fire ravaged communities of Manitoba and Quebec.

150 tons were shipped on the "Deserend" on June 2. 25 tons were sent by air June 12 and the balance will follow by air and sea at an early date. Included in the shipments are quantities of bedding, blankets, clothing, medicine and supplies.

LOOKING AHEAD

with WILLIAM C. JAMES

Women as the buyers of the nation have a highly developed sense of values. Years of bargain hunting have conditioned them so they can see through gaudy wrappings to the essential value of the product. That is why much of the increased income being earned by women in business operations is set aside to purchase annuities, endowments, and other forms of life insurance protection. With business women generally retiring at an earlier age than men, their need for such protection is very great and has resulted in the number of women owning life insurance policies today being twice the pre-war figure. The average policy, too, is for a considerably larger amount. Why not talk your policy over with me today?

BRENTWOOD

Renewing old acquaintances in West Saanich last week-end were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Scott, of Langford. They were accompanied by their son, Eric, from Edmonton. It was the latter's first visit here since he was two years old. Mr. Scott was a founder member of the seed firm which bears his name, Scott and Peden.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Andrew, this week were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gardner, of Portland, Ore. The American tourists called in to see the collection of birds at the home of the Brentwood aviarist. They were deeply impressed with the varieties to be seen at the Brentwood specialists' aviaries.

Anne Knott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Knott, West Saanich Road, celebrated her eighth birthday when she was hostess to a number of friends at her home last week. The children enjoyed games and visited the beach. Among the guests were Harriet Forsberg, Patricia Greenhalgh, Beth Haugen, Carol Thompson, Dianne McKay, Jeanette Smithurst, Linda Andrew, Linda Smith, Gordon and Dennis Clemett, Wayne Hamilton, Cameron MacDonald, Kathleen Rice, Marilyn Rice and Shirley Lowe.

Comments on the lack of the Sidney-Steveston ferry were voiced by members of the C.Y.H. from Vancouver, who spent the week-end at Brentwood Hostel. Miss Marjorie Kibbelle, president of that branch, commented: "This is the most beautiful and convenient of our western region hostels. If that ferry were only running it would be perfect." Miss Florence Wright observed that "we could have wept when we found that the Motor Princess was no longer running." Cay Stirling was surprised that the lack of "so small a boat could cause so much inconvenience."

Ben Paull was a visitor with his relatives at Tsartlip Reserve last week. He has just completed

Mr. and Mrs. H. Andrew left for Seattle on Sunday. They expect to be away for two or three weeks and will visit relatives in Portland, Ore. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. E. Andrew, the parents of the bird specialist, will look after the aviaries.

Dennis Clemett celebrated his eighth birthday on July 8. The swimming party, which had been planned was cancelled by the rain and indoor games were enjoyed instead. His guests included Ann and Patsy Knott, Maureen and Nancy Duval, Barry Lee, Wayne and John Hamilton and Gordon Clemett. Mrs. Clemett also entertained Mrs. R. Knott, Mrs. M. Hamilton, Mrs. E. Lee, Mrs. Clemett, Sr., Miss Ruby Donald and Miss Minnie McGuire, of California.

Miss Minnie McGuire, of California, and Miss Ruby Donald, of Beach Drive, intend to travel to Vancouver to attend the reunion picnic for Moosomin old-timers that is to be staged at Stanley Park. Both ladies are natives of Moosomin.

Guests at Brentwood Auto Court this week included: R. Crosby and family, New Westminster; Thos. Hill and family, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Suter and family, Albany, Calif.; A. G. Mertz and wife, Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roth, Fort Wayne, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. R. Beatson, Dollarton, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Durham, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Daw, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. C. Exter, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Ludwig, Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson, Port Alberni; Mr. and Mrs. R. Howie and family, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barbershop Quartet

Like making a good cup of tea, the important point in developing the individual voices, just so long as they blend closely, and the closer the better.

So says Bill Carr, baritone and soloist of the CBC's one and only Barbershop Quartet, an indispensable part of the Leicester Square to Broadway show since its inception.

Lined up here, like peas in a pod, are the four voices, all decked out for the special occasion of having their picture taken. In the usual order the voices are: Second tenor Len Hayman, baritone Bill Carr, top tenor Horace Chapman, and basso Hubert Nowell.

HOPE-PRINCETON HIGHWAY IMPRESSES BRENTWOOD FAMILY

Roads and rising waters were the prominent feature of a holiday in the interior recently spent by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woodbridge, of Brentwood. Accompanied by their daughters, Donna and Joan, and Mrs. Woodbridge's brother, Len Philbrook, they spent ten days touring the province and travelling as far east as Calgary. Travelling to Chilliwack they found roads where the flood waters had reached the edge of the highway. In no case was it due to a breakdown of the dykes, but to the constant seepage through the flood barriers. They encountered many hundreds of people, working, or watching anxiously.

wood Bay Store had been taken over by Dave Dyer, son-in-law of J. A. Goulding, Marchants Road. Mr. Dyer, who is a former resident of Brentwood, is living in Victoria.

Mrs. J. Wilson and son, Johnnie, left on Sunday for Edmonton, where they will visit Mrs. Wilson's mother and other relatives for a month before joining Mr. Wilson at Williams Lake. They will make their home at the latter centre.

Miss June-Anne Bailey is home for the summer holidays. She has been teaching at Penticton, where she will return at the end of the vacation.

Fred Bailey won the $100 David Thom scholarship given for study of soil and chemistry, in which he is specializing. It is his second year at U.B.C. and he will return for his third and final year in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. McLoughlin and their two children, Drumheller, Alta., are visitors at the home of Mr. McLoughlin's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dignan.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Powley and Janice, Victoria, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dignan.

Tommy Dignan and Greg Lee are holidaying on Saturday Island. They are the guests of the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Al Slater.

Mrs. J. Combe, Beach Drive, returned home on Monday from an Alaskan cruise aboard the Princess Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garrett, of Saskatoon, Sask., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Lyon.

UNEVEN LIGHT

Examples of uneven distribution of light are frequently apparent in classrooms or workshops where there is a great deal of light on the window side, but little on the inner wall. In corridors, also, between window areas, are pools of darkness. On stairways, one section is often shadowed in gloom. Correction of such conditions may require daylight controls at windows and the partial use of artificial illumination, but the painting of the interior in a light color which has high light-reflection value will usually aid greatly in correcting the condition.

Saanich Girl Becomes Nun

Miss Adeline Thomas, from the Saanich Reserve No. 3 (Paquetzen), was the first Indian to enter the religious order of the Sisters of Mary Immaculate, when she took her vows on June 20, at the Anaham Indian Reserve. The Saanich Indian young lady has been a novice of the order since the beginning of 1948.

The order to which she now belongs is exclusively for Indian girls and was founded in 1947. The members are encouraged to continue their studies and to follow any profession for which they are qualified and which may be of benefit to their people, such as teaching, nursing, social and secretarial work.

The Most Rev. E. Q. Jennings, D.D., presided at the ceremony when Miss Thomas entered the order. She took the name of Sister Mary of the Sacred Heart. Rev. Fr. X. Lauzon, of West Saanich, was present at the colorful ceremony.

Mrs. L. Farrell, Jr., Simpson Rd., is progressing satisfactorily at home after being a patient at Rest Haven for the past week.

H. Bompas, park attendant of John Dean Park, Saanichton, reports that well over 2,000 registered guests have visited this scenic park since May 1 of this year. Formerly a well-known business merchant of this area, Harry Bompas hopes to break all previous visitor records made at Dean Park, and although this is his first year as attendant, the excellent condition of the picnic grounds has added much to the naturalistic surroundings of this beautiful park. Tourists from many parts of Canada and the States are frequent visitors, and numerous out-of-town guests have taken advantage of camping facilities that are available and spent several days enjoying one of nature's most beautiful spots and one that Peninsula residents should be proud of.

A VALUABLE ORGANIZATION

THERE'S a little example in the news this week of the value to a community of a live and active Chamber of Commerce. It's worth noting at this time.

A few weeks ago, a committee of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce was named to study the despatch of mails from this area and to press for an improvement in the times of departure.

The committee met and gave adequate study to the situation. Its members prepared a brief and forwarded it to the proper postal authorities, asking that some action be taken to improve the situation if it was found feasible.

A few brief weeks elapsed and from Ottawa word has come that the recommendations of the committee have been adopted. Mails will be despatched from this area at a more suitable time daily. For governments pay heed to sensible recommendations of Chambers of Commerce and therein lies their value.

The greater the membership of any Chamber of Commerce, the greater its value to the area it serves. It's a fact worth remembering.

THE 1951 CENSUS

THE census is taken in every Canadian community every year which ends with a "1." It so happens that only every 10th year ends with this figure and that next year, 1951, answers that description.

Now a lot of fun has been poked at census takers ever since this method of keeping track of population was inaugurated many years ago. But it's really a most serious business and the statistics which are secured in this way are invaluable to business and governments generally.

The Review feels, however, that the census should be elastic and secure as much information as possible. It so happens that the Gulf Islands and the Saanich Peninsula generally provide attractive summer home sites for scores of persons whose permanent residence is elsewhere. Readers will not have to look very far to see what we mean. Many permanent residents of Victoria, Vancouver, Chicago and many other centres, have built attractive summer homes here and enjoy themselves to the full in this delightful climate for many months each year. Now where do they show in the census?

Each nose is counted only once in the census. If a man and his wife and family reside permanently in Vancouver, the census will count them there. And although they spend a lot of their time and money in this area, and are a distinct business and cultural asset to this community, there will be no record of them in the official statistics.

In other words, the census will not show a fair picture of the growth and development of this area unless questions such as these are asked and answered: "Have you a summer home? Where is it? What part of each year do you spend there? What investment have you made in your summer home? What do you spend annually in connection with your summer home?"

This thought is worth developing further. If the suggestion were adopted, we cannot see that the cost of the census would be increased by one dollar but the statistics produced would be invaluable.

NASTY CREATURES

MOSQUITOES are nasty creatures. We don't like them. They cause offence in a minor way by buzzing loudly during the hours when all sensible human beings are trying to sleep. Their major objection, however, is their habit of enjoying lunch from the blood stream of man and beast.

Many types of animal and insect, common in the days of yore, no longer inhabit this sphere and the world would be a better one if the lowly mosquito was remembered only in the history books.

Mosquitoes are carriers of disease and countless lives have been lost in some climes because of their activities.

But modern science has established some clear-cut facts about the mosquito family. The obnoxious variety hatch from eggs on water other than sea water. Their natural breeding grounds are stagnant water in warm climates. If there is no standing water, or water moving very slowly, there are no mosquitoes. Standing water in open ditches is a delight to the mosquito. He hatches from this filthy nesting ground and carries disease with him to the lunch table on someone's arm or face.

The presence of a large number of mosquitoes is entirely unnecessary in any modern community in this part of the world. They simply mean that the people who inhabit that area have neglected to take the steps necessary for their eradication. In some districts, mosquitoes have been eradicated by putting used oil on the surface of standing water during the breeding season. In others they are eliminated by dusting the area with a cheap powder.

The Review does not like mosquitoes for they are undesirable settlers in any region. It will be happy to support any movement for their complete annihilation in this part of the world.

... Letters To The Editor ...

AN APPRECIATION

Editor, Review,

Sir: The First of July with its distractions is not conducive to letter writing, but I want to acknowledge a courtesy shown me yesterday by a driver who stopped his bus and waited while I, parcel-laden, made slow progress through the traffic. He could so easily have not seen me and left me stranded. I should like to thank him (whose name I do not know) for an act of kindness greatly appreciated.

Do not some cities have "courtesy week" among their people, serving the public? In Sidney, courtesy is a year-round institution.

May I also thank those who keep such attractive flower gardens up and down the streets of Sidney. They give genuine pleasure to the passer-by, and enhance the beauty of this country.

Yours truly, a newcomer,

M. HOLBROOK

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Editor, Review,

Sir: With reference to the report in your issue of July 10, regarding the prosecution for the theft of our Golden Cocker Spaniel, we wish to pay tribute to the prompt action of the local police in tracing the culprit who removed the animal in his car in broad daylight and took it to one of the islands where we would never have thought of looking for it. Justice was done in court and we have no desire to add comment to that here, but it is the object

The Review's Book Review

"KING OF THE BASTARDS," by Sarah Gertrude Millin; Wm. Heinemann (British Book Service), 339 pp., $3.

No philosopher or historian has offered a true justification for racial prejudice or disparity. No human has ever offered a solution to the prejudice and disparity that occurs in every country where different races dwell together and apart. Although there is little friction in Canada on the question, the problem remains to be solved in the United States and its reflections appear almost daily in the news from the south. It is frequently overlooked by Canadians and Americans that the difficulties of living amicably, irrespective of color, are probably greatest in South Africa.

Mrs. Millin is a South African and has lived among the people to whom racial distinction is the most important feature of their lives. She takes the reader into the lives of the most troubled of all the colored peoples, the half and half. The author has delved into the history of the "Cape People" and other sections of mixed blood, and the result is a story that is both enlightening and of considerable appeal.

The whole story revolves around Coenraad Buys, great-grandson of a French Huguenot, who had settled in South Africa. When he was eight years old his father died suddenly and he is described as having suspected his mother of poisoning him. The title, King of the Bastards, was applied to Buys. He lived most of his life among the black races and during his lifetime he raised a tremendous family. He had innumerable wives and all his children were of mixed blood. In South Africa the term bastard has a double meaning. It is used in the same sense as elsewhere, but it also refers to the inhabitants whose blood is mixed. His title referred to the latter sense of the word.

The story of his life among the natives is told through the pages of the book.

The descendants of this almost legendary figure in the early history of South Africa are today in existence. They are known as the Buys People and they live in the Northern Transvaal. They are all direct descendants of the original Coenraad and they are faced with one major problem. Shall they continue their attempt throughout their history to be white, or shall they abandon it and become black? Whatever his motives in leaving his color for the rest of his life, Coenraad Buys introduced a problem that has not yet been settled, nearly 200 years later.

The story carries a foreword by Field-Marshal J. C. Smuts: known Mrs. Millin has built up "Out of the oblivion (of the un- his (Coenraad's) great figure—the greatest of them all—against this setting of lurid history," writes the great Empire statesman.

It is a great story.—F.G.R.

of this letter to record our public thanks to a neighboring storekeeper, Mr. Don Redman, who witnessed the incident and took the number of the defendant's car, thus providing the all-important clue to the recovery of the animal. This smart piece of service is here cited as an example of the highest form of citizenship of which Sidney can be proud. We ourselves most sincerely appreciate Mr. Redman's ready act, without which the distress of not knowing what had happened to this member of our household would have been our constant concern.

Yours sincerely,

BRENDA GOODE.

ANSWERS MR. HOLLOWAY

Editor, Review,

Sir: Reading the article on "Spiritual Growth" by Philip Holloway, he mentions that it was lately reported from a secret conference of Jews that other nations were doomed to destroy one another, given time; that Christianity is a make-believe religion; that in North America we have no system of spiritual growth except along the line of material wealth and its distribution, but we are not made for hate, and so much the better.

In answer to these statements I wish to say that the Jews were the chosen people because they were the lowest in sense of good and truth willing to do anything for their own greatness and love of self, and from that quality even as today nailed the King of good and truth on the cross. He must suffer in order to save what could be saved from the lowest of mankind.

The Old Testament deals with the power of God and the New Testament with the love and truth from God, for the Bible is the only link that connects the natural or animal man with the spiritual of God, and it is a warning not to reject the divine good and truth of the sixth and seventh sense which is God and the creative force, being life itself.

Man is animal from the five senses, and becomes spiritual through the sixth and seventh sense of the universal mind, for man is individual and has no power through these five senses, limited number because he is devoid of spiritual good and truth. Spiritual good knows, and spiritual truth sees, and that is universal with pagans or Christians, with Jews or Arabs "wherever it is lived" because it is justice to all.

The present condition of life on this earth is caused through the rejection of good and truth, while the persecution of Jews is a sample to all and forever of what will happen to them who want to make God of themselves through the power of wealth and

Guardians of the Land

(Written on his farm in Suffolk, England, by Peter Howard, printed by permission.)

We guard the soil. On silent winter nights When frost has steeled the furrows, and the ponds Are armoured shields against the invading moon, We hear the earth soft-breathing. Understand Earth is no dead, unfeeling bulk of clay But animate strength, with heart and lungs and limbs Wounded by greed, yet sensitive to care. Earth is God's living workman. Age by age Abundantly it turns death into life. Wet mulched manures, the dry composted heaps Of woodash, grass, and lime-decaying straw, The bones and flesh of beasts, the blood of men— All touch the earth, and change and stir and live. No particle of food in all the world Is fit for men until it has endured The alchemy and potency of the soil. All dead things come to life within the earth Slowly, inevitably. But man desires The quick return, cash-cropping, money yields. He will not wait for years while the manures Moulder and break and form a rich soil. With heart and muscle, rich and purposeful, While in his yards slow bullocks tread the straw And crunch the beans and sweat and breathe and sleep. They plunge and rustle all the winter through Knee deep in straw, while underneath their feet The hot, moist dung rises—till they stride Over the gates that penned them in as calves. And leave behind a legacy of life To kernel corn and swell globed golden roots Out of the land in harvest yet unseen. Let those whose heart and hand and energies Are set on enterprise with swift reward Turn from the land—ten thousand years and more The furnaces of summer have to heat The deep heart of the earth and crumble it; The icy leverage of winter's force Must probe and wrench and crack the rocks beneath Before one single inch of soil is made. Yet man does not conserve it. Watch the slopes. Off to save time and cash imprudent fools Order the ploughman up and down the hills. The furrows run like rivulets in the rain, Hundreds and hundreds, carrying off the soil Into the ditches and away to sea. In half-an-hour of rain, soil scours away. Centuries slow-moulded. Foolish men Have saved a half-day's labour, half a day Of ploughman's wages, so they are content.

Now, under God, we guardians of the soil Dedicate all we have in toil and prayer, Not for the swift return of cash and kind, But re-creating craft in husbandry. And stewardship and quiet sufficiency. So both our cottages and farms shall know The multitudinous fruitage of the soil. The barns shall sag and tremble with the corn Beam-high, rich pyramids of warmth and gold. Broad stallions, thunderous-hooved, shall pace the earth And fertilize the pastures, while the cows Wax fat and richly yield in calf and cream. We, stewards of the Hill, plan under God To shape this farm to perfect purposes. Faithful in every detail, so to mould This message to the nation and the world.

love of self, self-love will kill anything that dare to oppose it. Good and truth is a healing force which we can witness through the Lord Jesus, evil and falsity punishes itself because life is justice unto itself and in good and truth is no punishment, every individual lives by the results of his own action in spirit, mind, sense, or love that makes one; the five senses seeks expression in physical things that must perish, but the sixth and seventh sense is the only life and everlasting substance.

The difference between the natural or animal man and the spiritual man is seen by their works. The former turns the life he receives into abuse by material wealth and uses the five senses to satisfy his appetite and affections, love for physics rules his existence.

The latter turns the life he receives into love and truth for him who is life itself and through that understand what life is and knows that his life will be enlarged forever, for there is no limit to the wealth of sense that God will bestow upon a man who tries to live Him, but the former perish by the matter of this earth where he lives by.

The publication of any book will stop some time for it is the work of man, but the Bible shall be forever on this earth because it is God's word that contains the natural sense in the letter, the spiritual sense in truth, and the celestial sense in love.

The beauty of wisdom comes through the love from God because of the man who is wise from himself.

P. J. RYKERS, Deep Cove, Sidney, July 3, 1950.

P.S.—Are we free of paganism and out of the dark ages? If one should speak or publish the truth about the government or the church both of them would soon cause his dissipation. Man will think that he is wise from understanding, but understanding gives no knowledge, it is the living of understanding and Jesus was and is the King of all because He lived the understanding which He received from God the Creator, the will—P.J.R.

A RHYMING APPEAL

The following poem is contributed by the Christopher Club of Fulford Harbor, a service club whose members are from eight to 14 years of age. One of the club's objects is helping to keep Fulford clean:

A PLEA
We have a lovely island,
But as we look around
We hate to see the scenery spoiled
With rubbish on the ground.

We pick up papers and tin cans
Along our roadsides strewn—
It's NOT the way we'd soonest spend
A precious afternoon!

We welcome you to Salt Spring,
To our lakes and valleys green—
Please leave our island just as nice
As if you'd never been!

And you who live here all the time
We fear aren't free from blame;
And when you fling that bottle
down
You bring our island shame.

We'll do the best that we can do,
So will you, in your turn,
Collect your picnic papers up
And take them home to burn?

Reflections From the Past

20 YEARS AGO

On Tuesday, July 1, the Ganges Athletic Club held its first annual sports day. I. Simpson won the silver cup donated by Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., M.P.P., and J. Akerman won the cup for the highest aggregate points. The remainder of winners included: L. Nicholls, H. Caldwell, L. Mouat, Ray Parsons, W. M. Mouat, G. Cunningham, S. Rogers, Mrs. Inglis, A. Stacey, M. Dewhurst, B. Robinson, J. Stevens and Val Gvyes.

It was announced last night that the steamer, Island Princess, has been purchased by J. H. Matson and is being reconstructed for the ferry service between Salt Spring Island and Swartz Bay. She will be renamed the "Cy Peck."

The following is a list of the presentations made at Pender Island school on closing. They were made by the teachers, Miss Marjorie Locke and Miss Maude Dickinson. Rolls of honor, Bobby Johnston, Jimmy Falconer, Ivy Logan, Perry McLean, Adelaide Ames, Muriel Corbett, David Falconer, Bobby Mollison. Special prizes for reading, donated by Mrs. A. H. Menzies, were awarded Beth Clague and Margaret Stiggins, of the junior division and Bobby Johnston and Jimmy Falconer, of the senior division.

The annual picnic of the United church Sunday school was held on Saturday at Alex MacDonald's farm. Over 150 children and their parents enjoyed a fine afternoon of swimming, boating and tennis. Following is a list of winners in the various events: Joyce Wilson, Gladys Carter, George Norbury, Lorraine McNeil, Dorothy Hall, Oriole Grundon, Gloria John, Muriel Hall, Betty McIntosh, Donny McNeil, Iain MacDonald, Clinton Holder, Violet Dames, Kathleen Hoare, Gwen Howwood, Barry Hall, Masao Baba, Mary Jackson, Emily Thornley, Emily Holdridge, Boden Storey, Louis Daves, David Lophthien, Genevieve Ricketts, Bella Craig, Annie Jackson, Henry Rankin, Winnie Thornley, Laura Lane, Mrs. Norbury, Edgar Jackson, Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Hall, Mr. Gush, Mr. Mears, and Barry Hall.

Mrs. G. E. Goddard is home again after being away for many weeks during the illness of her son, Everett, in Seattle.

25 YEARS AGO

On Thursday afternoon of last week Mrs. Fred Smith was hostess at a miscellaneous shower on Pender Island in honor of Mrs. Taylor, who lost her home and its contents in a recent fire. About 20 guests were present as the gifts were presented by little Bobby Mollison and Peggy Smith. Tea was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her sister, Miss Mary Hamilton and Miss Margaret Brackett.

The Deep Cove Social Club held a very successful dance in the hall on Friday evening. Music was supplied by Miss Adeline Crossley, W. Lind and Raymond Brethour. Miss Nellie Livesey

Hard Work Pays Off

(From the Northern Miner)

Seventy-four years ago an ambitious young Swedish carpenter left his native land to cross the ocean and make his way in the new world. Last week the dedication of a magnificent new building to the cause of science and research at the University of Toronto, a building toward which that young immigrant's estate contributed $1,000,000, bore architectural evidence of the success with which he made the wheel of fortune spin.

One of the pioneer developers of power in the mining fields of Northern Ontario, and the founder of Canada Wire and Cable Company, now Noranda-controlled, Emil A. Wallberg is still remembered as a man of remarkable energy and vision; an engineering pioneer who made his way to the top as a captain of industry.

But Emil Wallberg died 20 years ago. He made his mark and fortune in the final quarter of the last century and the first quarter of this one. Could he achieve such success in these times, were he alive and young today?

We wonder about this. Emil Wallberg made his way in a world of free enterprise; in times when the only limitations to a man's success were his health, his talents, and his will to work. Those were the days when governments weren't paternal when individual efforts weren't hampered at every turn by controls and high taxation. Days when hard work and vision could be sold at high prices, and the proceeds kept for the building of fortunes.

In the times when Emil Wallberg made his fortune there were many pioneering giants. The history of those 50 years sparkles with names like Booth, Eaton, O'Brien, Mount-Stephen, Timmins; and all the others who helped push the frontiers back. They did a yeoman job. But will the coming years bring similar development?

Today, as in the rest of the world, the easily accessible natural resources of this country are pretty well known. We're going deep into the territories, New Quebec, and Labrador to search for new wealth, which means that discovery and development require more expense, hard work, skill, vision, and flinty of purpose than ever.

Yet a surfeit of socialistic demands for higher taxes and more controls is dulling the profit urge. If the trend continues undisturbed that urge could dwindle to ineffectiveness. It's something that every tax-hungry and control-anxious government should think about.

The following pupils of Sidney school passed high school examinations: Margaret Cochran, Nellie Cotton, Alice Fairclough, Irene Frost, Grace Simister and Elizabeth Maxwell. Promotions in the school were as follows: To junior fourth, Iris Goddard, Leonard Cotton, Lizette Watts, Verna Clanton, Lilah Pohl, Gordon Reid, Fred Clanton, Doris Cavill, Lionel Crossley, Phyllis McKillop, Phyllis Parkes, John Jackson, John Lophthien. To entrance class: Kathleen Williams, Ruby Lophthien, Colin McKenzie, Ella Blackburn, Agnes Williams, Alice Jackson, Gladys Daniels, Hazel Hill, Herman Lind and Mabel Crooks. The latter group will form a special class if an additional teacher is engaged.

A. Evans arrived at West Saanich from Seattle last week. He is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomson, and other relatives in Saanich and Victoria.

Mrs. R. T. Ramsay and family, with Miss R. Matthews arrived from Winnipeg last Saturday to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Matthews, Third St., Sidney. Several friends of Mrs. Waserer, Sidney, will be pleased to know that she is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Patchel have taken up their residence on Third Street.

Sidney Couple Wed In Attractive Ceremony At St. Luke's Church, Victoria

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's Anglican church, Victoria, Saturday, July 1, with Rev. F. Pike officiating, when Joan Gwendoline, adopted daughter of Miss P. M. Baker, McTavish Road, Sidney, became the bride of John Thorneycroft Peake, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peake, Lockside Drive.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Leo Baker, of Victoria, was charming in a floor-length gown of white sheer, featuring a bouffant skirt slightly entrain, full-length bishop sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her floor-length bridal veil was held in place by a net and orange blossom halo headdress. Her only ornament was an heirloom pendant belonging to the groom's mother. She carried a bouquet of cream roses and cascading rosebuds.

Master Gordon Rickard, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rickard, McTavish Road, filled the role of ring-bearer, clad in dark powder blue velvet knee pants, white silk shirt and matching shoes and socks.

Powder Blue Dress

Mrs. Geo. Baker, of Victoria, niece of the bride's mother, as matron of honor, was attractively gowned in a powder blue sheer dress, with a matching headdress, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The two junior bridesmaids, Frances Baker, cousin of the bride, and Beverly Wells, niece of the groom, selected powder blue taffeta dresses with lace trim and carried twin bouquets of pale pink roses.

The groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Chas. Sano. The bride's mother chose a navy and white figured crepe as a navy with navy accessories, while the groom's mother selected a coral crepe dress with black and white accessories.

During the signing of the register, J. Thorneycroft, uncle of the groom, sang "O Perfect Love." More than 50 relatives and friends attended the reception, held at "The Olde English Inn," Victoria. For the honeymoon trip, by car, to Vancouver and southern U.S. cities, the bride chose a blue grey Glenn twined suit with dove grey shortie coat and navy and white accessories. On return the bridal couple will reside in Victoria.

The Wise Gardener

Notes From Saanichton Experimental Station

Now is a good time to make an inventory of your food garden. Have you an abundance of vegetables in variety which are ready for the table? If the supply is not at least adequate in both variety and quantity, make a note of what kinds are not yet ready or are absent altogether. Cool season crops such as peas, lettuce, carrot, beet, cabbage, cauliflower should all be in season now, and some may have been in use for as long as a month. It may be a matter of simply sowing earlier, or else unsuitable soil conditions may be the chief factor contributing to failure. Whatever the cause, careful notes made now of the overall state of your vegetable supply will be a very useful guide in planning your 1951 garden next winter.

Don't forget that now is the time to plant out your late cauliflower, cabbage, sprouting broccoli, kale, savoy, etc. If you find that your earlier plans aren't working out just as you had hoped, and you are short of room, make sure that all your garden space is being used to best advantage. For example, these crops may be interplanted with early potatoes. The latter will soon be removed leaving the young plants of cauliflower, cabbage, etc., to take over the space.

August is a good month in which to take clematis cuttings. This fine flowering shrub has wide appeal and cuttings taken during August root much more easily than is commonly known. The cutting should have two leaves and roots best when taken with a heel, though this is not necessary. A rooting medium of half sand and half peat is satisfactory. Cuttings should be placed in a closed and shaded cold frame where the humidity can be kept high by means of syringing two or three times during these bright sunny days. After a few weeks some air can be given but humidity must be kept high to keep the cuttings from drying out in their early life. This same procedure can be followed with many other plants that root well from immature wood such as Andromeda, Berberis, Viburnum, Deutzia, Lonicera, Weigelia, Forsythia and many more.

ALUMINUM BARGE

A metal barge which needs no paint has been built by an English firm. It is made of aluminum alloy which resists corrosion and weighs only 14 tons compared with the 30 tons of a steel barge of the same size. Its capacity on a three-foot draught is 90 tons compared with 75 tons. The barge can be exported in 60 prefabricated sections.

Strawberry Dance Is Enjoyed

A very successful "strawberry dance" was held in the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Hall, on Fourth St., Sidney, last Friday, July 7.

About 120 people gathered to dance to the music of the "Homesteaders" orchestra.

The strawberries and cream served proved a very popular feature, and the committee were kept busy supplying the requirements of the guests.

The two tombolas, donated by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Goode, were won by Mrs. W. Tripp and Mrs. E. Wilkinson.

This dance, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, was the first function undertaken by the auxiliary, and Mrs. E. Michell, chairman, and the rest of her committee, as well as the other members who assisted, were very pleased with the success of the evening.

Mrs. Goode, president of the auxiliary, made an address of welcome, and especially thanked the members of the "Homesteaders" orchestra, who so kindly volunteered their services.

FLYING FASTER THAN SOUND

British planes will make an attempt this summer to break world air speed records. Experimental fighter aircraft will be used and the types likely to be chosen are the Hawker P 1052 and the Vickers Supermarine P 510, both of which are still on the secret list. The present world speed record is just under 671 miles an hour. It is claimed that these two new jet aircraft can reach speeds greater than sound (about 760 m.p.h. at sea level and 660 m.p.h. at 30,000 feet).

PICK AND SHOVEL TODAY AND WHAT TOMORROW

Look at a gang of pick-and-shovel men working in the street. Better look them over carefully. The head of tomorrow's big construction company may be among them.

That is the way our system works.

There is nothing wrong with pick-and-shovel work. It is honest toil, pretty well paid these days—better paid by far than anywhere in the world outside this continent.

But always there will be some whose ambition stretches to greater things. So they save their money, and soon they are taking small sub-contracts; later, bigger ones. And after demonstrating the ability to work hard and lead men, they get more capital and go after still bigger jobs. Eventually it can be a big construction company.

Dreaming? Not a bit. The head of just about every large contracting firm in Canada started that way and fought his way up the ladder of success.

That is why it is called the free enterprise system. It works for Canada and Canadians.

It is worth guarding and preserving.

We went fishing the other night. Golly, it was a beautiful evening. Frank bit the end off his pipe trying to steer round the kelp. I saw Caddy at least three times though everyone else thought it was a log. The "Morning Flight" is a nifty craft, which began life as a river cruiser on the Assiniboine. She survived the rail trip out west and after a renovation, now bucks the best rip tides with the rest of them.

It wasn't her fault that we caught nothing. Imagine using baloney for bait! That's what it sounded like when someone yelled that they'd lost a baloney or an abaloney—anyway it seemed silly to me.

I didn't worry about the lack of fish, 'cause this town's full of it—fresh, frozen, smoked or tinned. We tried a box of fresh frozen sole fillets at 42 cents—delicious and not a bone in the lot. Thawed them slowly well ahead of cooking so they wouldn't dry out. Dipped in egg and bread crumbs and fried in margarine—a swish, fish dish!

Fresh Crab
Something really new in town is the fresh frozen crab meat in 6 oz. cartons. You'll pay 44 pennies for this taste treat. Thaw at room temperature for two hours. Nothing better and another B.C. product.

Also it's good to see the tinned

THE REVIEW'S MARKET LETTER
(Supplied by H. A. Humber Ltd.)

A provocative announcement late Friday that important news of a military nature would be divulged after the close, brought on a new sinking spell for stocks at the week-end, which dropped industrials, railroads and utilities in the final session.

Brokers said the list's reaction to uncertainty had again proved its highly nervous state for selling was indiscriminate, with so-called war stocks suffering along with peace leaders, such as television shares. Traders are expected to be in a jittery state until the situation in Korea stabilizes somewhat.

pilchards winking at us from the local shelves again after their long absence. Around 20 cents a tin takes them away.

We had our anniversary last week—our second. Dear boy got all mixed up 'cause one authority rated it our paper anniversary and one our cotton. Anyway, he presented his pet wife with a huge cardboard box whose exterior loudly proclaimed the merits of a popular brand of soup. Inside was the weirdest assortment, and I'm telling you, Mame, I got more kick out of those gifts than a mule on an ant hill.

First a spool of cotton, then a pad of writing paper to take care of both sentiments. Next a wire brush to perk up last year's anniversary suede purse—don't you like the thought? Also found a red plastic opener and pourer for our tinned milk as the one we have is indispensable on the fruit juice tins. Ever try one? Use it to open that can of milk on picnics so what's left over won't spill on the way home. Only a few pennies for a lot of help.

Then I found a new attachable bath spray. How I lived without it I don't know. We have no shower but we don't need one with this hitched to our old-style bath faucet. Super for hair shampoo and rinsings.

Yippee! DOUGHNUT TWISTS
Raised light and tender with new fast DRY Yeast!

There's a new twist in doughnuts—a new thrill in all your baking! Say goodbye to perishable yeast—Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast keeps full strength until you use it—fast-acting when you use it. Get a dozen packages—it keeps in your cupboard!

DOUGHNUT TWISTS

Scald 1/2 c. milk, 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well.

Add cooled milk mixture and stir in 2 well-beaten eggs and 1 tsp. vanilla. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 1/4 c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough and roll out into a rectangle, 1/2" thick; loosen dough; roll again to 1/2" thickness. Cut into strips 7" long and 1/2" wide. Fold strips in half, twist, then pinch ends together. Arrange well apart, on lightly-floured cookie sheets; grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Carefully lift, a few at a time, into shortening that has been heated to 365°—hot enough to brown a cube of day-old bread in 60 seconds. When under-sides are browned, turn and cook second sides. Carefully lift from fat and drain on absorbent paper. Coat with a mixture of fruit sugar and cinnamon or brush hot doughnuts with the following syrup: Heat, stirring until the sugar dissolves, 1 c. granulated sugar, 1/4 c. butter or margarine and 1/4 c. water; simmer 5 mins., then stir in 1 tsp. vanilla; keep hot over boiling water—if syrup becomes too sugary, stir in a little boiling water and heat to boiling point. Yield—3 dozen doughnuts.

Note: Dough may be cut with an orthodox doughnut cutter; fry the doughnuts and the "holes".

ANDERSON—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Sgt. Jack Anderson, R.C.A.F., killed overseas July 14, 1944. There is no death, tell out the mighty message.

There is no death, go tell it far and wide; What men call death is but a simple crossing Over life's river to the other side. There is no death, the spirit world around us Proclaim the joyful news to sons of earth; When time shall bring the soul's emancipation, Call it not death, but rather second birth. His country called—his duty done. —Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, George, Denis and Donald.

British Industries Fair Opens

Buyers from all over the world attended the opening of the British Industries Fair at London (Earls Court and Olympia) and Castle Bromwich. The number of overseas buyers was the highest for over two years and it is expected that by the time the fair closes a record number of visitors will be recorded. An exhibit at Olympia which is already attracting many overseas visitors is a working model of BEPO—the larger of the two piles at the Atomic Energy Research Establishment at Harwell. This display is arranged by the British Ministry of Supply to show some of the industrial uses of radio-isotopes. This picture shows the working model of BEPO at Olympia.

PLAYS YOUTHFUL JAMES ISLAND NINE

Sunday was a big day for baseball fans in North Saanich, for not only did they see a good minor league game between the Legionnaires and Victoria but they had the rather doubtful pleasure of seeing the remnants of by-gone days take to the dusty diamond for an exhibition match between James Island and Sidney.

The Sidney team, composed of a motley crowd of local business men, etc., have yet to give themselves a name. However, several titles have been offered from the sidelines... such names as the "Has Beens" and the "Sidney Bums" were bandied about from side to side and either name might be permanently adopted. The whole idea of the team is to have some fun and get a little exercise. From the sounds of rasping breathing and aching backs the exercise the boys are getting will cause them to move with caution for a few days until the stiffness eases from their aged joints.

Credit for organizing this noble group goes to Don Forster. Other members of the squad are Wilkie Gardner, Charlie Skinner, Cec Moorehouse of Mary's Coffee Bar, Bob Hadley, Bryan Forster, Mylin Hall, Curly Pettis and Stan Musial.

Youthful Athletes James Island fielded a fairly youthful team by comparison. They had a fairly complete representation from such well-known Universities as McGill, Queens and U.B.C. These students are working at James Island during the summer months. The final score incidentally was 16 to 6 for James Island. Injuries were kept to a minimum, the only casualties were Bryan Forster and Cec Moorehouse who both suffered severe "charley horses."

Deep Cove has organized a courageous team which will be playing in Sidney again soon and they too are slightly past their baseball prime.

Close Defeat And Clear Victory Feature Sidney Legionnaires' Games During Week

In a close, hard-fought game against Oak Bay, the Sidney Legionnaires were edged out of the winner's circle by a score of 10 to 9. The local boys had a two-run lead up until the fifth inning when the Oak Bay bats exploded for three home runs by three consecutive batters to move ahead. They maintained their slight margin to the end and won the ball game.

Sidney... 0 0 6 0 1 1 1 Oak Bay... 2 1 0 2 4 1 x A very decisive win was registered Sunday when the Sidney Legionnaires steam rolled over the Ace Woodworkers of Victoria by a score of 8 to 0. The shut-out win was credited to Herb Steele who went the distance and pitched one of his better games of the season. Steele gave up only two hits, one walk and received near perfect support from the rest of the team.

Hustling Harry Jacobsen, about five feet of suppressed eagerness, played a good game at third base and promises to be a threat in this minor league in the years to come. He has about six years more to play in this age group.

Interrupted The ball game was interrupted momentarily about the fourth inning when the clouds opened up with a scattered shower. At one point in the game the visiting club threatened to leave the field over an umpire's decision at second base. They were given five minutes to resume play and decided to continue. One Victoria player was ejected from the game for expressing his views of the umpire in a too emphatic manner.

The Legionnaires have only two league games remaining to be played. When the schedule closes next week manager Bryan Forster intends to arrange a series of exhibition games with up-island teams. Duncan has announced its willingness to participate and it is expected that Chemainus will follow suit shortly.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 3

How much does it cost to advertise a 5¢ candy bar? 1¢? 2¢ a bar?

Answer:

It costs less than 1/4¢ per bar to advertise Canada's favorite candy.

That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times the cost of that 1/4¢ per bar.

TENDERS For Transportation

Tenders for Transportation of Pupils as follows will be accepted up until August 1, 1950, for the following:

- 20 pupils Canoe Cove to Deep Cove school (daily).
- 20 pupils Lakeside in Sidney school (daily).
- 13 pupils James Island Wharf to North Saanich High school (once a week).
- 10 pupils Prospect Lake to Prospect Lake school (daily).

Sept. 5, 1950, to June 30, 1951. Tender forms may be obtained at the School Board Office, Sidney, B.C., upon application. K. N. SPARKS, Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 63 (Saanich).

Annual Garden Party Enjoyed At Galiano

The fourth annual garden party and sale, sponsored by the South Galiano P.T.A., was held in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bambrick on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 5. Parties from the "Cy Peck" excursion and Mayne Island swelled the crowd.

Mrs. E. Callaghan, local president, introduced Mrs. Lillian D. Evans of Victoria, provincial president of the association, who declared the affair open. Mrs. Evans was accompanied by Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, of Victoria, and third vice-president of the P.T.A. The guests of honor were presented with corsages by three-year-old Jane Bambrick.

A lace tablecloth, donated by Miss Endacott, was raffled and was won by Mrs. Atkinson, of Victoria. Place mats given by Mrs. E. Finnis were also raffled and were won by Mrs. Bambrick. Mrs. N. Snaback won a dressed chicken, given by Lloyd Booth, in a guess-the-weight contest.

Those in charge of the stalls were as follows: Needle-work, Mrs. Harold Shopland and Mrs. G. E. Nichols; home-cooking, Mrs. Stanley Page and Miss Juan Wyckoff; children's stall, Mrs. E. Finnis; white elephant, Patsey Callaghan and Pat McKenzie; garden produce, Ron Callaghan and Sonny Chauvin.

Tea was served to over 150 persons. Responsible for catering were Mrs. Ronald Page, Mrs. G. Springett, Mrs. E. J. Bambrick, Mrs. E. D. Wilson and Mrs. J. P. Hume. Mrs. Stanley Shale and Miss E. Endacott were in charge of the tea tables assisted by several of the younger girls.

The sum of $170 was realized.

KEEN COMPETITION FEATURES GANGES ANNUAL SPORTS DAY

Annual sports day, sponsored by the Salt Spring Island Athletic Club, was held on July 1 in the Mahon Hall grounds, Ganges. The committee in charge of the day's activities consisted of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Trelford, Mrs. Charles Houghton, Joyce Coates, Ed. Bishop, George Hurst and Bill Reid. There was a large number of entries for each of the events and competition was keen in all races and high and broad jumps.

Cups were won by the following: Girls, 16-18, 100 yds. race—Marjorie Childerstone. Boys, 16-18, 100 yds. open—Dorothy Dods. Boys, 100 yds. open—George Henn. Girls, high jump, open—Jean St. Denis. Girls, broad jump, open—Kay Wood. Boys, broad jump, open—George Henn.

Several side shows and games were in progress during the afternoon and, at hotdog stands, ice cream and soft drink stalls, business was brisk. In the evening a dance was held in the Mahon Hall with Sid Grover's orchestra, Victoria, in attendance. The hall decorations were carried out with masses of summer flowers and greenery, vari-colored lights and balloons.

The sum realized by the day's activities, and also by the regatta, which took place the following day, was $400 and this will go towards the funds for a club house.

In Men's Suits . . .

QUALITY alone can insure true VALUE

Serving
Victoria
88 Years

The words "Quality" and "Style" are so often used in connection with clothing that they are sometimes taken not too seriously. But at W. & J. Wilson it is our contention that without real QUALITY there can be no real VALUE. Since the very beginning of Victoria, W. & J. Wilson has stood for unquestioned quality, and today that reputation is more firmly established than ever.

Here the finest of imported wools exemplify tailoring beyond criticism, and medium and light-weight tweeds, worsteds and gabardines and Summer-weight two-piece suits are now being shown at the lowest possible prices consistent with true quality.

ANOTHER FAMED WALLACE

IS WELL KNOWN AT DEEP COVE

Wallace has lived about 10 years. There is none to make a closer estimate of his age than the broad decade. He has been known around the Deep Cove area that is his home for so many years that most residents take him for granted.

Wallace is almost a full retriever. His many friends incline to the opinion that he is all retriever but there was a shadow of doubt on his beginnings. Wallace has no inhibitions on the subject and continues to maintain his enviable reputation as the leading coon-dog in Deep Cove. Residents of Deep Cove support the contention of E. G. Hay that Wallace has more than 200 coons to his credit.

Last week his barking was heard by Mr. Hay, who, accompanied by his son, Gordon, and a number of interested residents, followed the sound. The dog had been calling for more than 12 hours. He habitually barks and waits to hear if there is any response. He then barks again and waits. He will carry on indefinitely until someone comes to answer his call. He will then stand against the tree and watch the cornered animal. The coon may then be caught by following the gaze of the dog.

Wallace's Ear

On this particular occasion Wallace was fatigued from his long sojourn at the foot of the tree. The coon was shot but it was not killed. Like an eagle swooping out of the sky it descended upon the group on the ground. The spectators scattered and Wallace was left to a clear field. He bounded in and caught the coon. The animal, in the vicious manner of its kind, put up a fight. It caught Wallace's ear. Although the coon-dog was not acquainted with the classic poem concerning the ear of another Wallace, he let go hurriedly. The coon then attempted to get away. Wallace caught him again and he retaliated by biting the dog's foot. Once more the dog was obliged to release his hold. For several minutes they fought back and forth until finally the marauder was vanquished.

In the earlier years of his life Wallace was the property of the late Mrs. Lee, of Deep Cove. Upon her death he became a moocher. For months he had no home. He was fed by different residents of the area who recognized him but he had lost his mistress and was not satisfied to stay in any one place for long. Finally he attached himself to Eddie Lee, the youngest son of his former mistress. He has lived with Mr. Lee since that time. Poultry farmers and other residents of the district are all Wallace's friends. Mr. Hay remarked that Wallace "is worth $1,000 to us for the coons he gets rid of."

MORE ABOUT Transportation

At the present moment anyone on vacation wishing to bring a car to Galiano, cannot get space before the middle of August. Visitors want to bring their cars with them and residents want to take theirs when going away for short periods. This is extremely difficult today.

The C.P.R. has long provided us with service which today is inadequate. This large company should be asked for a clear statement on its future plans. When the C.P.R.'s proposals are known definitely, residents of the affected areas can sit down and make their own plans. But no progress can be made during the existing uncertainty.

The islands to the south and east of us have nothing more to offer than have we, but they have left the wheel-barrow age years ago. Their governments and transportation companies long since realized that progress follows transportation, so keep up the pressure and let us not lag so far behind our neighbors.

A CALIFORNIAN

Editor, Review,
Sir:

I have before me a copy of your editorial, entitled "Transportation" clipped from The Review issue of June 28, 1950. The reason I happen to have this clipping, is because it was forwarded to me by some friends in Sidney whom I visited early in June.

My wife and I, following a custom of many years, came up again to visit with our Sidney friends and to enjoy your beautiful country. While there, we "explored" the locality extensively. We were charmed with the scenery on the other side of Satellite Channel and suggested to my friends that we take a trip across. I was surprised, however, to learn that apart from the local ferry to Salt Spring Island (which I had previously visited) one cannot go over to the other Gulf Islands except via Vancouver.

This was surprising because I was sure that if Canadian transportation interests only realized the appeal such scenery and green beauty have for Californians they would waste no time to make the country accessible, and profit thereby. So far I have seen those Gulf Islands only from the deck of a Vancouver-Victoria steamer and in passing them have wondered why it was not possible to obtain a through ticket for the Black Ball line from Anacortes through the San Juans to Sidney and thence to Vancouver through the Gulf Islands with stopover privileges in the islands.

ONE INJURED AND $500 DAMAGE IN COLLISION

Mrs. Alice E. S. Havenor, of Saanich, suffered concussion and shock on Saturday, July 8, when she was passenger in a car involved in a collision with a bakery truck at the intersection of Stelly's Cross Road and Veyaness Road. The accident occurred about four o'clock in the afternoon, when the Weston Bakeries truck was travelling east on Stelly's Cross Road and was in collision with the car, driven north on Veyaness Road by the daughter of the elderly injured woman.

The truck left the road and came to rest about 200 feet from the point of impact. Damage was estimated at about $500.

I have been spending most of my vacations in your province, through the Cariboo and at almost every place you can name on Vancouver Island. They have been happy enjoyable periods of rest, and the fishing has never let me down. California has sunshine it is true, but sometimes too much, and B.C. is mighty beautiful in the summer. California, too, as you may have well heard, has filled up rapidly with people; far more than local recreational facilities can accommodate. If some Californians have been spending their holidays in B.C. during the past, you can count on more. I noticed that the roads were much improved, but, of course, roads alone are not enough in your country; adequate transportation over waterways is also essential.

I believe your editorial to be both pointed and timely, and wish you luck and success in your campaign. If it is not too much trouble, please let me know as soon as that Gulf Island transportation is established. My wife and I wish to come up and "explore" them too and I'm sure we'll not be disappointed. I hear that some of the smaller islands have been purchased by Americans who have erected some fine summer homes—that would interest me too.

Respectfully yours,
A. S. HIERONYMUS.

A BREACH OF CONTRACT?

Editor, Review,
Sir:

When we left Victoria 16 years ago, to make our home on Galiano, the C.P.R. provided a direct boat service from here to Victoria, once a week.

We came here, fully expecting this service would be continued, or even improved, but last year it was abolished entirely, in spite of the fact that Galiano has recently developed more than the other Gulf Islands (apart from Salt Spring Island).

People on these islands with family or business connections in Victoria are thus cut off. Is this not a breach of contract by the C.P.R.?

Just before last Christmas, my wife and I wished to visit our son and daughter in Victoria for a few days. To do so, we had to go via Vancouver. We left Galiano at 6.30 p.m. Tuesday, and arrived Victoria at 7 a.m. Wednesday—13 hours to go 35 miles at a cost of $24.30 return.

You can draw your own conclusions as to what we think about this state of affairs, and it's not a very good advertisement for a district, which, with the best all-year-around climate in Canada, should be developed into the spot to which many of the aged residents of harsher climates could retire.

GOOD NEIGHBOR WEEK IN SCOTLAND

Each year in Dumfries, Scotland, there is a week's pageantry of good neighborliness. This year's celebrations began on June 28 and the neighborly spirit has extended from individuals to countries. A famous Norwegian male voice choir from Alesund is visiting Scotland to take part in the celebrations. These singing Vikings, who formed the Varde Choir in 1926, are now 50 strong.

DON'T BE FOOLED

Quacks and frauds find cancer patients among the easiest victims available. Don't be taken in by unscrupulous characters who are willing to sacrifice your life to make a dishonest dollar. If you suspect you may have cancer, see a qualified medical doctor at once. No amount of pills, salves or lotions can cure cancer and many of them are actually harmful. Treated early by a competent doctor, many cancers can be cured.

FOR HEALTHY TEETH

Scientific research has discovered methods whereby it is hoped a large percentage of dental decay will be eliminated. But until these new methods have been thoroughly tested and brought into widespread use, one of the best methods of maintaining good dental health is the regular use of the toothbrush. Twice-yearly visits to the dentist are also a "must" for good dental health.

PAGING MR. SMITH

A card index containing 18,000 names—probably the biggest in the world—has been compiled by Britain's General Post Office to keep track of holders of National Savings Certificates. Included in the listings are 6,000 William Smiths, 5,500 John Smiths, 3,500 William Jones and 3,500 John Jones. But in spite of this, given a certificate holder's number, he can be traced in less than one minute.

Because it was losing $376,200 daily on railroad operations, the government of Argentina has contemplated tearing up 40 per cent of the trackage and replacing it with highways.

SIDNEY BOAT TOWED INTO SAFE ANCHORAGE

Paul Norton, of Shoal Harbor Marine, had a near escape on the evening of Monday, July 10, when his vessel, Idler II, was saved from drifting onto the rocks at Ironsides Bay, by the quick thinking of two residents of that area. The motor in Mr. Norton's boat had stalled and he attempted to tow the 40-foot boat behind his dinghy. E. Stinson and F. Johnson, of Hollywood Crescent, observed his difficulties and went to his aid in another rowboat. The vessel was towed inshore and tied up in the bay, where it remained overnight.

STAINING BIRCH

Birch is a close-grained wood that does not require a paste filler. It can best be given a mahogany or walnut color with a penetrating stain. While it is often given a natural finish with a gloss or dull varnish, a lacquer or a wax, it supplies an excellent base for enamel and may also be bleached.

WEST SAANICH HOME ENTERED

The home of George Butcher, West Saanich Road, was entered on Friday afternoon. Mr. Butcher reported that about $18 was taken. Drawers in his desk and cupboards were ransacked and the pockets of clothing had been examined. A neighbor reported having seen two young men walk up the driveway of Mr. Butcher's house and later observed one of the men outside the house. Access was apparently gained by means of the back door.
